Mozilla Backpack

You might have heard of Mozilla through using the Firefox Browser. Mozilla are an open source software company who promote community development to create open standards in software such as web browsers and e-mail clients.

Mozilla developed the Open Badges Infrastucture as a new online standard to recognise and verify learning, with this they developed the Mozilla Backpack that allows you to keep all your digital badges from a number of institutions in one place.

< Digital Badges	Home	